BIO

Connor Beaton is a leading men's work facilitator, speaker, teacher, and coach. He guides others through encountering and reconciling with their inner darkness in order to become better leaders, husbands, wives, parents, lovers, and citizens.

After the unspoken rules of traditional masculinity left him homeless and near suicide, Connor founded ManTalks, an international organization helping people heal their damaged relationship with maleness in themselves, in others, and in their communities.

Connor is also an international speaker, host of a top-ranked podcast, and works 1-on-1 with men who are looking to deepen their purpose, radically improve their relationships, and regain confidence.

Since founding ManTalks, Connor has been engaged by high-profile organizations such as Samsung, and shared stages with Lewis Howes, Gary Vaynerchuk, and Danielle LaPorte, and taken ManTalks internationally to over a dozen cities.

LET'S TALK ABOUT

MASCULINITY

Together, we'll take off the mask most men live behind, and build on the secret strengths, hardest struggles, and deepest secrets of masculinity.

THE SHADOW

As the saying goes, "your pain has its own intelligence," and this intelligence is the shadow. But your dark side doesn't have to be your bad side.

SELF-LEADERSHIP

We all crave a certain degree of freedom, but many of us aren't even given a roadmap to it. Let Connor draw out your inner capacity for leading the life you want and heading in the direction you desire.
